

What More Can He Do?

Rachel Rivers, 1907

John Robson Sweney

J=83

1. O lost ones, in dan-ger no long-er re-main! The Sav-ior is call-ing a-
 2. He calls thro' the Gos-pel, re-pent and be-lieve; He calls and en-treats you His
 3. He calls thro' His mer-cy, and still you de-lay; He calls by His Spir-it, you
 4. O haste, He is wait-ing, you can-not re-fuse The way of sal-va-tion with

- gain and a-gain; Re-mem-ber the an-guish He suf-fered for you; His grace to re-ceive; He of-fers full par-don, and on-ly de-mands Your grieve Him a-way; Ah, soon your pro-ba-tion per-haps may be o'er, And glad-ness to choose! His blood of a-tone-ment is flow-ing for you, He ad lib. Refrain

life paid your ran-som— what more can He do? lov-ing sub-mis-sion to all He com-mands. What more can He do, what then your Re-deem-er will call you no more!
 of-fers it free-ly— what more can He do?

more can He do— His hands and His feet to the cross nailed for you? What

ad lib.

more can He do, what more can He do— His life paid your ran - som— what more can He do?