

Leave It for Tomorrow

Jessie Anne Lee, 2012, alt. by A. K. Z.

Angela K. Zehr, harm. & arr. by N. E. M.

♩=90

1. Just leave it for to - mor - row— 'cause it's not to - day, And
 2. If you would take to - mor - row when to - day's not through, A
 3. When we take more our - selves than what we ev - er could, It
 4. If you hold on to - mor - row, it will weigh you down. You trou - bles from the day be - fore have passed a - way! So take the day God's giv - en you, and knot comes in your sto - mach, and your breath's short, too, So that you feel so wea - ry and can't can't be joy - ful liv - ing, peace - a - ble or good. God said His yoke is ea - sy, and His can - not car - ry it be - cause to - day's ar - ound. A - lone you will be lone - ly and the

Refrain

that's e - nough; To - mor - row may not come, and yes - ter - day was tough.
 take to - day, So drop to - mor - row and let Je - sus lead the way. So bur - den's light. So walk to - day with Je - sus, and you'll win the fight!
 way seems long, But Je - sus gives you joy, and you'll walk with a song!

leave to - mor - row and to - day on God's door - mat, Where ev - 'ry - thing is bet - ter— leave it just like that! Don't pick back up to - mor - row or a - no - ther woe, To - day is where He leads us, and with us will go.